Perthshire Amber - The Dougie MacLean Festival
Various Venues in Highland Perthshire

Dougie MacLean is "Scotland's pre-eminent singer-songwriter and a national musical treasure" (Performing Songwriter USA) who has developed a unique festival which shares with visitors from Scotland and abroad his native and very beautiful scenery, as well as his music and musical friends. This 10 day festival features international and Scottish musicians of the highest calibre. The concerts are staged in a variety of wonderful venues from an iron age crannog on Loch Tay, to historic Blair Castle and Castle Menzies and atmospheric Dunkeld Cathedral to the Festival Theatre in Pitlochry. Yet the Festival is so much more than the music concerts. There are workshops, walks, talks, open mic sessions and a Young Songwriter's Showcase as well as Cabaret Amber (free early evening music). It's also a celebration of the history and culture of this unique county in the heart of Scotland, at a time of the year when Perthshire is ablaze with rich autumnal colour. The Trustees' Toolbox - A seminar with Colin Liddell

Pitlochry Festival Theatre

It is almost five years since Colin Liddell, an accredited specialist in Charity Law, gave a talk at Pitlochry Festival Theatre on what was at that time the forthcoming Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005. In light of pending changes to this Act, Colin has put together a new seminar, which will provide Trustees with practical guidance and valuable insights into the various aspects of their role, actions and responsibilities as trustees. In addition, Colin will include a number of tips and personal recommendations. Aimed at Trustees of charities together with, where relevant, members of management teams, this is a rare chance to revisit, update or revise your knowledge with one of Scotland's leading charity law experts. A special 2 course supper will be served beforehand in the River Room Restaurant at 6.30pm. All proceeds to Pitlochry Festival Theatre, a registered Scottish Charity. Tickets: £5, dinner £15.00 - BOOK NOW Tel: Box Office: 01796 484 626 www.PitlochryFestivalTheatre.com

An Audience With Peter and Dan Snow

Veteran broadcaster Peter Snow and his son Dan will talk about their lives in TV broadcasting, including the making of the BBC series Battlefield Britain and Dan's recent Empire Of The Seas series on the Royal Navy - not to mention the infamous 'Swing-ometer'!

Peter's new book To War With Wellington tells the story of Britain's triumphant war with Napoleon 200 years ago, one of the most successful campaigns in military history. The Duke of Wellington's battle with Napoleon started with a tiny foothold in Portugal in 1808 and ended with the decisive battle of Waterloo in 1815 and the destruction of Napoleonic France.

Dan's book, Death Or Victory, relates the epic history of the battle of Quebec, the death of Wolfe and the beginnings of Britain's empire in North America. There will be a chance to ask questions and a book signing after the show. Tickets:
